

Editorial Policies

Articles Section

1) Población & Sociedad considers unpublished articles, written in English or Spanish which are the product of investigations and/or original reflections in the ample field of the Social Sciences. All articles, including those that are part of a dossier will be assessed by two external evaluators of undisclosed identity. Only in cases of opposed evaluations will a third referee be contacted. The review is carried out on a double blind basis

2) To be considered for publication it is indispensable that articles have neither been published nor sent for evaluation to other scientific journals. Articles based on information already intensively discussed in former publications will not be accepted. The author must clearly state if the article is based on a former publication (for example a poster or a congress proceeding). Furthermore, the editorial committee has to be informed if an article is based on an unpublished PhD thesis or if the content has been presented- even though not published- at a previous congress. For more information on publication ethics please consult our website: <http://www.poblacionysociedad.org.ar/index.php?go=4>
Fill in the submission form and send it together with the paper to the editorial committee (see homepage).

3) Articles should not exceed 12,000 (twelve thousand) words including notes, tables, figures and supplements. Abbreviations should be consistent and easily identifiable. If necessary, a list of all abbreviations should be included at the end of the paper.

4) Articles should consist of a clear outline of research question(s), design, detailed research background, methods applied and results.

5) Only a very limited number of explanatory notes are permissible and all of them should be correlatively listed at the end of the text. The use of the "end notes" tool in word processing programs is strongly recommended.

6) All references to unpublished primary sources should follow the same format and should be included in the end notes (archival documents, interviews, etc.).

7) Bibliographic references and published sources should be included in the text- in between brackets - following the American Psychological Association (APA) style, including author's/authors' surname, year of publication and page numbers. For example: (Bolsi, 2003:45; Berger & Luckmann, 2006:125).

8) Bibliography and published sources should be placed- in alphabetical order- at the end of the article following the American Psychological Association (APA) style. For example:

- Books by one author: DUBY, G. (1981). El caballero, la mujer y el cura. Madrid, España: Taurus.

- Books by two or more authors: BERGER, P. & LUCKMANN, T. (2006). La construcción social de la realidad. Buenos Aires, Argentina: Amorrortu editores.

- Book Chapters: GINZBURG, C. (1983). Señales, raíces de un paradigma indiciario. In A. Gargani (ed.), Crisis de la razón. Nuevos modelos en la relación entre saber y actividad humana (p. 55-99). D. F., México: Siglo XXI.

- Journal articles: GALLERO, C. (2013). Agroindustrias familiares en Misiones. Fábricas de ladrillo y almidón de mandioca de alemanes-brasileños (1919-2009). Población & Sociedad, 20(1), 41-76. ISSN: 0328-3445.

- Articles in printed newspapers: DE BENITO, E. (2000, 5 of June). Soria es la primera región del mundo que planifica un desarrollo ecológico y sostenible. El País, p. 15-16.

- Articles in online newspapers: BONET, E. (2011, 2 of February). Miles de personas oran en la plaza Tahrir de El Cairo. El Tiempo. Accessed at http://www.eltiempo.com/mundo/africa/protestas-enegipto_8817580-4.

- Thesis (doctoral or master): BOLDRINI, P. (2011). Producción participativa del hábitat popular en el área metropolitana de Tucumán. (Doctoral Thesis). Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, Universidad Nacional de Tucumán, Tucumán.

9) Citations of two lines or less (forty words) should be placed within the text using quotation marks as indicators. Longer citations should be started on a new line, in a free-standing block of text indented from the left margin. No quotations marks are needed in this case.

10) All articles should provide an abstract (up to 700 characters including blanks), as well as key words (maximum six) Title of the paper, abstract and key words should be written in Spanish and English.

11) Graphical content: photos, figures (illustrations, maps, drafts, drawings etc.), graphs, tables and diagrams should complement and clarify the text. Authors can include up to 10 graphical elements in all. The graphical elements must be numbered at the top (e.g. chart 2) and a title must be provided. Sources and their authors should be indicated below. All graphic material must be adequately presented to be published in one color. If greyscales need to be included they have to be halftone images. Figures must have a minimum of 300 dpi bearing in mind that the format of the journal is 108 by 167 mm. All illustrations should be sent in separate files and in the original format (tif, gif, jpg, excel, etc.).

12) Articles should be sent in doc format via Portal de Publicaciones Científicas y Técnicas (PPCT) of CAYCIT - CONICET. You can access the portal on the following web site:

<http://ppct.caicyt.gov.ar/index.php/pys/about/submissions#onlineSubmissions>

A complementary file has to be attached to the article including the following information: title of paper, data concerning the author's/s' (name, academic affiliation, mail address, phone number and home/work e-mail address). Additionally, a not more than 7 lines CV (in English or Spanish) including the areas of investigation of the author/s and references to formerly published work should be provided in the same file. Once registered at the portal you will be able to track the evaluation procedure of your article.

If you are unable to send your article via the portal please contact: revista@poblacionysociedad.org.ar

13) In cases of multiple authors, the lead author has to be clearly specified, otherwise, the first named author will be taken as lead author.

14) The author/s of accepted articles has/have to send a note declaring that the journal holds all rights of publication.

Short Contributions Section

1) Población & Sociedad publishes short contributions in English and Spanish which do not necessarily have to comply with the requirements set for articles, that is, to be based on primary sources.

2) Short contributions should not exceed 4000 (four thousand) words including notes, figures, illustrations and appendixes. Abbreviations should be coherent and easily identifiable. If necessary a list of abbreviations should be provided at the end of the text.

3) All short contributions should follow norms 5 to 14, detailed in the Articles Section. For short contributions end notes and bibliographic references should be kept to a minimum.

4) Short contributions will be evaluated by the editorial board of Población & Sociedad.

5) They should be sent via Portal de Publicaciones Científicas y Técnicas (PPCT) of CAYCIT - CONICET. You can access the portal on the following web site:

<http://ppct.caicyt.gov.ar/index.php/pys/about/submissions#onlineSubmissions>

A complementary file including the title of the paper, data concerning the author's/s' (name, academic affiliation, mailing address, telephone number and home/work e-mail address has to be attached. Additionally, a not more than 7 lines CV- in English or Spanish - stating the areas of investigation of the author/s and references to formerly published work should be provided in the same file. Once registered at the portal you can follow the evaluation process of your article.

If you are unable to send your article via the portal please contact: revista@poblacionysociedad.org.ar
